Tom's Story Continued:

But even with all those under my belt, I was not prepared for the deep and immediate response I had with you. What's more, I was surprised by the sudden and startling emergence of Past Life memories, all of which funneled into the work I was doing on this life. I have developed a deep sense of security which manifests itself through an outward and inward calm, a clearer vision, a stronger sense of self, and a healthier sense of boundaries, both mine and others. And your CD has proven to be extraordinarily worthwhile. I have had spontaneous Past Life memories surface while listening to it, and it has helped me between sessions continue the work I do with you. Plus, I have found that playing the CD with headphones on gives an extra boost to the healing energy. Thanks for helping me heal my psychic and emotional wounds. Because of the work, I have done with you I now, for the first time, actually have a life and the resources to build it with. Thanks for everything, Tom
